

SUMMARY

Foreword 7

ARTICLES

Bethania Mariani and José Luís Jobim

National language and post-colonial literature in Brazil 11

Cristina Maria Teixeira Stevens

Brazilian and U.S. American Issei/Nissei women novelists:
crossing borders bridging cultures 37

Gladis Massini-Gagliari

One language among many, many languages in one:
monolingualism, linguistic prejudice and language policy in Brazil 63

Leonor Lopes Fávero and Márcia A.G. Molina

Nova grammatica analytica da língua portuguesa
(by Charles Adrien Olivier Grivet) 85

Maria Auxiliadora Bezerra

From composition to genres: a brief history of the teaching of the written text in Brazilian schools 103

Maria Inês Pagliarini Cox and Ana Antônia de Assis-Peterson

The notion of transglossia and the phenomenon of linguistic mestizations in contemporary societies 131

Maria-Thereza de Queiroz Guimarães Strongoli

Cultural multispaciality and conflict between generations 153

Roberto Leiser Baronas
The bitterness of the political language 173

LECTURE

Sandra Guardini T. Vasconcelos Novels adrift: British contributions to the making of the Brazilian novel 197

INTERVIEW

Décio Torres Cruz and Denise Scheyerl
An interview with Luiz Angélico da Costa: an example of academic life 225

10 YEARS OF REVISTA DA ANPOLL

Edna Nascimento and Maria Célia Leonel 239

REVIEW

Tatiana Piccardi and Anna Elizabeth Balloco
EAGLETON, Terry. After Theory. New York: Basic Books, 2003 251

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES 263